A GLIMPSE ON HATHA YOGA

The syllable 'ha' stands for the vital force that governs the physical body and 'tha' denotes the mental force. In other words, Hatha Yoga can be defined as the Yoga of the Body and Mind Purification. Specially in the West, Hatha Yoga has been commonly understood as just a set of different asanas and it is deeply associated only in the physical way. Nevertheless, Hatha Yoga in its true form contemplates this union with the body and mind through asanas, purification techniques, pranayama, Mudras, Bandhas and meditation. Our classes focus on developing deep meditative states with the aid of different asanas and other techniques to attain a higher state of awareness.

A GLIMPSE ON ASHTANGA VINYASA YOGA

Ashtanga Vinyasa is an ancient system of Hatha Yoga that unfolds in a highly structured class where the asanas flow in sequence. Asanas are performed in a specific order, whereby each pose prepares the body for the next. The different movements demand a high degree of effort, focus and concentration that generates an internal heat that cleanses and purifies mind and soul bringing clarity to the mind. The system has 3 series. We focus on the primary series always with an instructor to lead you finally to your own practice.
